Home contents insurance

Home contents insurance provides protection for household goods, that is, for furnishings, appliances and housewares, and consumables. The policy covers items that you have purchased and brought into the home. Household items belonging to the landlord are not covered.

What is insured?
The insurance cover applies to damage resulting from fire (such as house fire, overvoltage by lightning strike), mains water (such as burst pipe), storm, hail, burglary, robbery and vandalism. At extra cost, cover can be extended to risks such as bicycle theft and natural disasters (earthquake, subsidence, landslide, flooding, backflow, snow weight or pressure, avalanche and volcanic eruption). In addition to actual damage to property, associated costs (such as clean-up costs) are also covered.

Who is insured?
The insurance policy covers you as the policy holder and – if living in together a joint household – your spouse, partner (must be named in the insurance policy) and your children who are minors.

Calculation of premium
The premium depends on the selected sum insured, your place of residence, and the selected scope of coverage.

What benefits do you receive in the event of a claim?
Your home contents are insured for the replacement value, that is, the insurer will pay the cost of purchasing an equivalent replacement in new condition. You can choose the sum insured. If the sum insured is lower than the replacement cost of all home contents, in the event of a claim, the insurer will reduce the benefits pro rata. If you have the sum insured calculated on the basis of the living area, no such pro rata reduction is undertaken. The maximum compensation is then equal to the sum insured. Valuables (such as cash, documents, savings books, other securities, jewelry, gems, pearls, stamps, telephone cards, coins, medals, all items made of gold or platinum, furs, handmade carpets, tapestry, art objects) are only insured to value limits if they are not stored in a safe or strong box. (See our product overview in the quote or see the terms of the insurance policy for details.)

Insurance location
The insurance cover applies to the residence indicated in the policy. If you relocate within Germany, the insurance cover “moves” with you. In this event, please get in touch with us before the move so that the new address can be noted in the contract and the contract can, if necessary, be adapted to the new risk situation (for example, review of the sum insured).

What damage is not covered?
Damage intentionally caused by you and damage resulting from acts of war or from atomic power stations are not covered. Damage resulting from gross negligence on your part may result in a reduction of benefit payable. See the terms of the insurance policy for further exclusions.

Term of policy
The policy has a duration of one year from the selected commencement of insurance. If you do not give notice (this must be received by the insurance company in writing at least three months before the end of the term of the policy), the contract automatically extends by a further year. If you return to your home country, we have a special right of termination, which means that the contract can be terminated at the time of your return. The remaining insurance premium is refunded on a pro rata basis.

Buying insurance
To buy insurance, please send the completed and signed application back to us, scan and email to my.insurance@de.bosch.com or fax it to +49 711 811 511 44088. The application form is sent out with the quote. The appropriate pages are marked “Bitte diese Seite zurückschicken”. We will then forward your application to the insurance company. The insurance company then prints a policy certificate, which is sent directly to you by post. You will receive a premium invoice with the policy certificate. The premium is to be paid to the insurer. If you chose to have premiums automatically deducted from your account (direct debit), the insurer will debit your account directly.

In the event of a claim
If you have a claim, before authorizing any repairs please contact us or the insurer to clarify how to proceed. Please send a description of how the damage occurred including photos and the original purchase invoices or quotes for the repair of the damaged items.

Glass insurance

What is insured?
Glass insurance covers the risk of glass breakage in private residences or in your one-family home. This includes building glazing (such as windows, glass canopies, balcony barriers) of the insured residence as well as glass incorporated into furnishings (such as mirrors, glass tables or cooktops).

Who is insured?
The insurance policy covers you as the policy holder and – if living in together a joint household – your spouse, partner (must be named in the insurance policy) and your children who are minors.

Calculation of premium:
The premium is dependent on the area of the living space.

What benefits do you receive in the event of a claim?
The insurance policy covers the cost for the replacement, delivery and installation of replacement material of the same type and quality.

Insurance location
The insurance cover applies to the residence indicated in the policy. If you relocate within Germany, the insurance cover "moves" with you. Personal liability insurance

If you cause damage to a third party, you are liable for compensation. Small damages can be paid out of pocket, but if your negligence leads to someone being injured, the indemnity claim can quickly become ruinous – because the German Civil Code states that you are liable to the full amount of the claim. This means that relatively minor negligence can quickly lead to debts that you are unable to pay forever. For this reason, personal liability insurance is one of the most important insurances.

Who is insured?
The insurance policy covers you as the policy holder and – if living together in a joint household
– your spouse, partner (must be named in the insurance policy) and your children who are minors.

What is insured?
The insurance policy covers bodily injury, damage to property, financial loss, and damage to rented property, which you, as an individual, caused as a result of the risks of everyday life. The exact scope of the insurance cover is regulated by the insurance company's insurance terms. Our insurers provide cover of at least EUR 20 million combined limit for personal injury, damage to property, financial loss and damage to rental property. Some benefits are limited by the insurance companies, such as damages incurred by children who cannot be held responsible for their actions (children under the age of 7 are generally considered not responsible for their actions), damage resulting from acts of kindness (such as neighborly help), or damage to rented or loaned items. The limitations are shown in the product overview of our policies and the terms & conditions of the insurance policy.

Damage to rental property
The policy covers the statutory liability resulting from damage to rental accommodation rented for personal purposes. For example, if you accidentally drop a hammer onto a tile and it breaks and has to be replaced, this is covered by the rental property damage policy. Liability for the following is excluded: wear and tear, inappropriate use, damage to heating, boilers and water heaters as well as electrical and gas equipment, damage to glass, and damage resulting from mold.

Geographical coverage
The insurance cover is worldwide.

Exclusions
The following damage is excluded from insurance cover:
Damage caused intentionally by you, damage caused by a vehicle for which insurance is compulsory (such as motor vehicle), damages where the third party is also covered by the policy (spouse, partner, children), other first-party damage or losses, fines and penalties, and contractual requirements (such as the repayment of a loan). For other exclusions, please see insurance terms & conditions.

Term of policy
The policy has a duration of one year from the selected commencement of insurance. If you do not give notice (this must be received by the insurance company in writing at least three months before the end of the term of the policy), the contract automatically renews for another year. If you return to your home country, we have a special right of termination, which means that the contract can be terminated at the time of your return. The remaining insurance premium is refunded on a pro rata basis.
